

Bigger Than Employment

It's easy to focus on how Wabtec directly supports its own employees with compensation and benefits, but the company also sustains the whole community in broader ways that indirectly benefit employees. Wabtec's involvement in the Erie economy makes it a better place to live.

Bringing funds into the economy

In addition to the wages paid to employees, Wabtec also brings money into the Erie economy with work for local companies. And the influx of cash to people in Erie increases spending at community businesses while bringing in more tax revenue to support schools, first responders, public services, and infrastructure.

4,463
jobs in Erie supported by Wabtec

All this extra spending in the Erie economy turns into gainful employment for the community. Wabtec's presence supports 2,123 jobs in Erie in addition to the 2,240 people directly employed by the company. Even for your family and friends who don't work at Wabtec, the company could be positively influencing their jobs and overall wellbeing.

Erie's partnership with Wabtec is great for employees and the greater community.
When Wabtec and Erie work together, good things happen.

