

GREG SBROCCO

Executive Vice President, Global Operations

Greg Sbrocco is the Executive Vice President of Global Operations at Wabtec. He oversees Wabtec's global manufacturing, quality, lean and sourcing. His team is responsible for leveraging lean and digital solutions to improve customer lead times and optimize inventory across the value stream.

With 27 years of experience, Greg came into this role following the merger with GE Transportation, where he led the Company's Global Supply Chain. He has a strong reputation of delivering results and driving key business initiatives. Greg was instrumental in the production launch of the Tier 4 engine platform, optimizing service fulfillment levels for customers, and in transforming the Grove City Reman and new engine sites into showcase GE Brilliant Factories. He joined GE in 1992 as an Environmental Engineer for the GE Energy business. During his tenure with the Company, he has held several leadership roles in GE Energy, GE Oil & Gas and GE Transportation.

A Cleveland native, Greg attended Purdue University and graduated with a B.S. Degree in 1992.
