Header Adjustments

- All the module menus have been moved to a sidebar menu to enable more.
- The shipper selection has been moved from under the user icon to the actual header.
- The shipper in the dropdown now includes the railroad mark.
- A new icon has been added for help tools. This icon is currently disabled. Please look forward to future enhancements to bring assistance materials directly to the product itself.

Benefits: This enhancement will assist shippers with multiple locations or railroads assisting their customers find what their looking for easier. The addition of the “?” icon will be the connecting hub of how upcoming and new enhancements are presented along with self-help to aid end-users as we continue to grow the product in the future. The logout option is still located under the user icon.
