President, Global Freight Services

Sameer Gaur is the President of Global Freight Services at Wabtec Corporation, where he leads a three billion-dollar global business with teams that are on the frontline supporting railroad customers, locally in over 20 countries. He leads the services franchise, ensuring the highest level of reliability and performance for Wabtec's global locomotive fleets.

Prior to his current appointment, Sameer served as Group President for Global Transit Services based in Paris. In this capacity, he led international teams serving approximately 800 transit operators across 40 countries, driving a robust growth strategy centered on innovation and best-in-class service. His leadership was instrumental in scaling the transit business in India and strengthening the North American transit vertical.

With 29-year career spanning three continents, Sameer offers a comprehensive perspective on the rail industry. His experience ranges from foundational roles at Canadian National Railway to executive P&L leadership at GE Rail Service. At GE Transportation, he was a key architect of the freight service franchise, building the modernization business and leading Product Management before transitioning to reshape Wabtec's transit portfolio.

Sameer holds an MBA from McGill University; a master's in economics from The Delhi School of Economics and a post-MBA from Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Management.
